

April 6

Great War event set at Caswell

The public is invited to attend a commemoration of the 101st anniversary of the United States entry into the Great War on Friday, April 6, at 10:30 a.m. at Fort Caswell Rifle Range off Foxfire Trace in Caswell Dunes.

Dave Lewis of the Brunswick County Historical Society, reenactor Carl Mauney, members of the Daughters of the American Revolution and members of the Friends of Fort Caswell Rifle Range will recite the names of known World War I veterans from Brunswick County. There also will be a wreath-laying ceremony, a presentation about the range and a tour.

To learn more about the event or the historic site, visit www.caswellriflerange.com.